WORKSHOP ON SWAYAM ONLINE COURSE

Organized by: Department of Sociology, AU

Coordinator: Mr. Kenbom Basar (HoD, Dept of Sociology)

Venue: Block A, Conference Hall, AU

Date: 16th February 2026

Timing: 10:00 AM to 12:00 PM

The Department of Sociology at Arunodaya University held a workshop on SWAYAM Online Courses on 16 February 2026 from 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. The purpose of the program was to promote digital learning and guide students in using online educational platforms for their studies and skill development outside traditional classrooms.

The workshop aimed to introduce students and faculty to the structure, registration steps, academic value, and long-term benefits of SWAYAM courses in higher education. Dr. G. Sureshkrishna, Associate Professor and Research Coordinator at Arunodaya University, served as the Resource Person. His experience and insights greatly enriched the session.

Ms. Kavitha Karmakar, Assistant Professor in the Department of Sociology, effectively led the workshop. It began with a welcome speech from Ms. Phitho Lowang, also an Assistant Professor in Sociology. She discussed the growing significance of digital platforms in today's higher education and stressed the need for students to embrace new ways of learning.

After the welcome remarks, Ms. Senyam Methak, Assistant Professor, detailed the workshop's goals and importance. She explained that the main aim was to introduce students to structured online learning platforms while encouraging them to utilize government-supported programs that increase academic flexibility and skill growth. She noted that these initiatives support a broader vision for educational reform focused on accessibility, quality, and inclusivity.

In his thorough presentation, Dr. Sureshkrishna offered an overview of SWAYAM (Study Webs of Active Learning for Young Aspiring Minds), a program launched by the Government of India to provide fair access to quality education nationwide. He explained that SWAYAM features courses from top institutions across various fields, including humanities, social sciences, commerce, management, science, and technology.

The Resource Person described the four components of SWAYAM courses, which are video lectures, downloadable reading materials, self-assessment exercises, and interactive discussion forums. He walked participants through the registration process, showing them how to create accounts, browse courses, choose subjects related to their interests, and enroll in suitable modules. He highlighted the importance of understanding course schedules, assessment methods, exam processes, and certification requirements. Dr. Sureshkrishna also discussed the benefits of SWAYAM courses. He explained how these courses can complement classroom learning, enable credit transfer, enrich subjects, provide interdisciplinary exposure, and enhance skills. Taking part in SWAYAM courses can improve students' academic profiles and better prepare them for competitive exams and careers. His presentation dispelled misconceptions and encouraged students to approach online education seriously.

During the interactive part of the workshop, participants had the chance to ask questions about subject choices, evaluation methods, certification fees, and academic acknowledgment. Dr. Sureshkrishna addressed each question thoughtfully, ensuring students gained a clear understanding. His responses were informative, inspiring, and enriching.

The program wrapped up with a vote of thanks from Ms. Tadar Uka, a B.A. 6th Semester student in the Department of Sociology. She expressed appreciation to the Resource Person, faculty, university administration, and fellow students for their valuable contributions to the workshop's success.

❖ WORDS OF APPRECIATION:

The Department of Sociology thanks Dr. Sureshkrishna for sharing his expertise and time. The Department also conveys its gratitude to the University Administration for their ongoing support. Thanks go to all faculty members in Sociology for their hard work in organizing the event. Special mention is made of a faculty member from the Department of Law for attending and supporting the program.

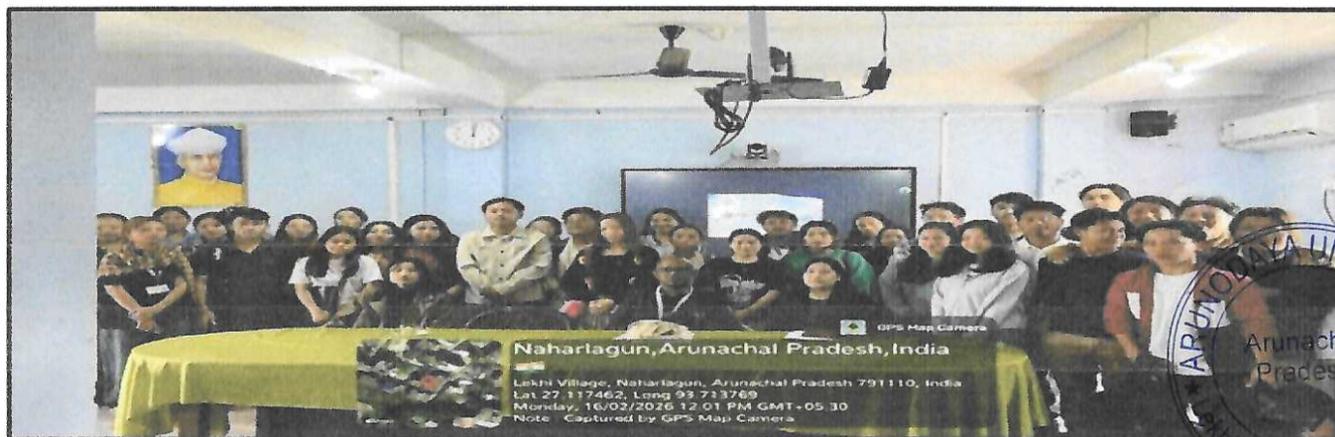

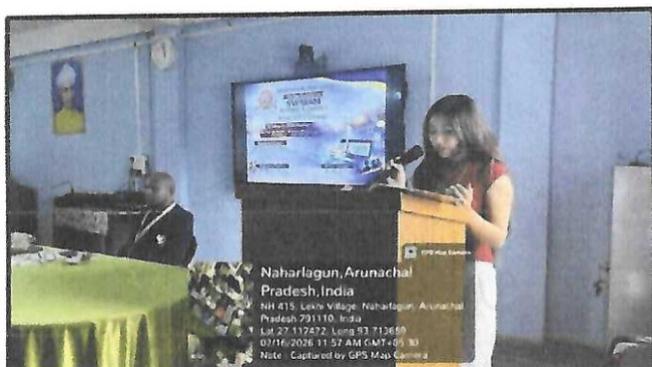

The Department appreciates the students from Sociology, Political Science, and Law for their active participation and commitment, which greatly contributed to the workshop's success. Lastly, heartfelt thanks are extended to all supporters for their encouragement. The Department looks forward to hosting similar academic programs in the future to promote quality education and overall development among students.
